Yarachand Thawards & Co. A NOTIFICATION is to be insued shortly. says the Bangkok Times, that an export duty of two ticals on each bullock, and The M. M. Co.'s steamer Yarra, with the three ticals for each buffalo, is to be charged by the Customs Department, As some three thousand bullocks are shipped every month, on an average, the impost should be profitable.

THE raison of the concequito, beye the Queenslander, has remained among the arcana of the universe putil last week. There were some who tried to explain the fact of its existence on the general theory that our present stage is one of discipline, and that the mosquito was a factor in the disciplinal system, which is absurd. The object of discipling is to make people morally better. The good of the mosquito simply drives men to perdition. There are others who state that the mosquito poison is a preventive of malaris. That would be all right if the mosquito would only restrict its operations to malarial districts and posthe O. S. S. Co.'s steamship Lacries left sible malarial cases, but the everlasting Singapore on March 19, and may be medium is worse than the occasional expected here on or about the 26th disease. But an incident that has just occurred in South Australia furnishes the real solution of the mystery. An old lady living in Kent Town noticed something moving in the milk she had just obtained from her milkmen, and closer examination proved that it was a mosquito in that stage when the insects live in water. There's the secret. When Nature first made milk. she at the same time foresaw the milkman and his wiles. Simultaneously also she foresaw the scaroity of artificial milk. testers, and proceeded at once to create a natural milk tester which should be at once mosquito, which at a certain stage will be found in water and not im pure milk. In the case of the lady in Kent Town, the milk containing the mosquito-index turned out upon scientific analysis to contain 75 per cent of water. And but for that fortal mosquito she would have paid for that liquid as milk ! Depend upon it, Natura does nothing in vain, and when next you are on the verge of uttering Satanic shipbeleths through the workings of mosquito poison, try to remember that the issue of your torturer may serve to secure pure milk to some good old lady in Kent Town or elsewhere. FRAGRANT WATERS MURMUR That at the last Council meeting the second officer in command in the Council having taken his seat, was duly sworn, and then welcomed, first by the Governor and next by Mr Chater. That whether usual or not, the procedure was not without its significance, in its bearing upon what Mr Bonser would cals the advantages of being governed under the wide and atutesman-like views, of the Secretary of State. That Mr O'Brien's reply to this rather out-of-the-way reception struck me as the neatest of the three speechlets. That I have no doubt the Council-and the community too will generously make allowance for Mr O'Brien's inexperience until he has had some little time to acquaint himself more fully with the conditions and circumstances of the

That although the new Colonial Secretary modestly hints that the fault lies in himself, that he is unacquainted with the conditions and circumstances of the Colony, most thinking men will readily conclude that it is the system, and not the man, to which objection can be taken. That the fact is, the Crown Colonies are growing out of their awaddling cluthes, and the system of government from the Colonial Office in getting rather possitshie and unacceptable in many particulars but official spectacles have not yet been brought to the discerning point. That it is to be hoped the more advanced section of our statesmen will come to see this element of unfitness in time to avoid oppocessary friction.

That I do not say so on account of what

-jou term the Bouserian style of insolense, because that form of officialism is fortunately rare, and may be explained away by a physical bilious condition begotten in the Straits. That the legal adviser of the Crown should so exceed and misconstrue his instructions as to attack the representatives of the Colony like a man demented, so as to call down upon his head the censure of the Queen's Representative, is a spectacle not usually witnessed oven in a Crown Colony. That the anapping of this ill-conditioned official should bave been indulged in when the good people of Singapore were bending under the full weight of the alltoo-heavy military exaction, shows that Mr Bonser knew not his surroundings, his clients, nor his opponents. That anyone reading the Whate in the Singapore Council can see that this unwice Attorney General overleaped the mark and fell prope on the other. side; but it is annoying to find such bungling set down as being in interests of Christianity. That as come words or unperliamentary language might be unwittingly mad to describe such importinence, it will perhaps be better to leave Mr Bonser where We introduce a man who says he never looked behind him-after a certain time. How are we to take his meaning? Why, by letting him explain it. He goes on to say that in one day in February, 1890, he was suddenly seized with dizziness and pain in his head. Like all healthy people, under similar circumstances, he didn't know what to make of it. He says he felt strange and queer, he shivered as though the weather had suddenly turned cold, and then flushed with the heat as though it had turned hot again. What niled him t-His doctor said he was attacked with influenza, and ordered him to bed. He went to bed. low days later the fover left him, but the liness did not. It merely assumed another form. His tongue looked like a piece of brown leather, and his skin and the whites of his eyes became vellow, like old parchment. TWe must all cat to went against him, and after he had awallowed it by main force, it caused such pain in the chest, side, and stomach that he wished he had let it glone. Then his heart began to palpitate, and he says he feltlow, languid, and tired. He had what he calls a sinking feeling at the pit of the stomach and a craving which nothing satisfied. Being unable to take any but liquid food hi grew so weak that he was barely able to walk. Then his heart troubled him once more, and, to quote his own words, 'As I sat in my chair I could hear my heart thumping as if somebody was pounding me on the back.' This showed that the heart had too much work on hand and was struggling under it like a horse trying to carry two men. "I got very little sleep at night, he says, and would lie swake for hours tossing about on the bed. This sort of thing is very wearing, and we are not Japan Ports. surprised to learn that he lost flosh until little was left of him but skin and bone. My cheeks, he says, sank in until they were almost drawn together, and people shook their heads and predicted that my time in this world was nearly up. Still I had all confidence in my physician and kept on taking his medicine. From first to last I took some forty or lifty bottles of it (of all kin is) without benefit. Finally one day the the doctor sounded my lungs and asked me if any of our family died consumption. He said that the heart politican was caused by dyspepsia. Then he said I had better take further advice : he could do no more for me. This was after nine months of his treatment. Igave up all hopes of getting better, and, indeed, no one expected me to. It was now winter again, December, 1890. One day I found a little book or namphiet in the house, that I had never seen before. It was about a medicine called Mother Seigel's Syrap, and described a case like mine having been cured by it. Without going into all my hopes and fears on the point, it is enough to say that I got a bettle from Mr Kirkman, Chemist, Ellerby Lane. -I took the contents of that bottl and certainly felt a little better. I took a second and began to cat solid food, which sgreed with
